THIRSTING FOR GORE.

The Victims in Wednesday's Bloody Battle at Homestead

ANXIOUS FOR FURTHER SLAUGHTER.

The Town and Works Under Marshal Law, and That Not the Law of the Land--The Calm Before a Storm.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 10.—Peace and quiet apparently reign to-day, but it is only the peace and quiet that precede a storm. The stillness is forced, and looks trouble. People remain indoors. If they meet upon the streets they converse in whispers. No one doubts that we are on the eve of trouble, and those who understand the situation look for more serious trouble even than that of last week. The sheriff is powerless. The governor does not act. And yet this borough of 12,000 inhabitants is in the hands of a set of determined men, who propose to settle their dispute with Carnegie without outside interference. They make their own laws and regulations and recognize no authority higher than themselves. They are under martial law and that not the law of the land. Armed guards patrol the streets night and day. Every approach to either the town or the works of the Carnegie Steel Co. is guarded. Every stranger is compelled to give a satisfactory explanation of himself and his business and if there is any doubt as to his identity he is escorted to the next outgoing train and warned that it will be dangerous to return. The strikers are drilled and equipped with Winchester, revolvers and shotguns. They are carried singly in the streets. The organization of the 4,000 or more members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers is remarkable. Every man is determined and word has been passed that there is no fight of their life. They are desperate, and another force of Pinkertons need expect no quarter. The mill men will die or win. If there is another battle here there is every indication here that there will be one and soon.

The success of the men in capturing the Pinkertons last Wednesday, and in holding their ground since, has given them an overgrown idea of their own importance. The local authorities are powerless to restrain the men even were they so disposed. As a matter of fact they are with the mill men. The highest officer here, in sympathy with the men. The regular police, composed of a chief and two patrolmen, are with them. Twenty additional policemen have been sworn in. They are not only with the mill men, but many of them are mill men thrown out of work by the lockout. Some members of the town council are leaders of the strikers. Men who have served on important committees in the trouble, distributed ammunition last night when the Pinkertons were expected. One of these men, who is a prominent citizen of Homestead, and who for obvious reasons requested that his name be suppressed, said:

"We took care of the Pinkertons the other day pretty well, but that will not be a circumstance to be repeated. The next lot will receive. We were taken by surprise then, but we are ready now, and we cannot be surprised. Our men are well armed, and they know how to use their arms. We have plenty of ammunition and our men are desperate. Some of them are seeking for an executioner. There are plenty of relatives and friends of the boys who fell last Wednesday who are thirsting for revenge. If the Pinkertons come or scouts are put in the works they will get it."

The headquarters of the strikers is a new three-story brick building on high ground overlooking the Carnegie works and within pistol shot of the celebrated fence that surrounds the mills. From the council millmen, the third floor the movements of watchmen within the Carnegie grounds can be observed. At present the strikers permit the few clerks and other employees at the mills to pass in and out unobserved. But the works are surrounded and are practically in the possession of the strikers.

By refraining from placing guards within the works, the strikers claim there is no excuse for intervention by state troops, and if the militia put in an appearance there is no telling what the result will be. The strikers have sent their committee to see Gov. Pattison and to protest against the presence of troops. Should their protest be ignored and the troops be sent as an escort for nonunion men, there is little doubt but that the result will be a battle. The men know that it is a fight of life for their organization and that defeat means the loss of their homes and the starvation of their families. They are prepared for any emergency. They have now repeating rifles, cannon and dynamite. The latter is in the hands of the men experienced in its use. If they decide to blow up the Carnegie bridge from the works to the other side of the Monongahela they will do it even if a train load of Pinkertons should happen to be crossing at the time. If they decide to demolish the works it is in their power to do it; but there are too many sensible men among the strikers, and they have too much integrity in the preservation of the works for any such step. The situation tonight is that the town of Homestead, and the great mills of Carnegie, are in the hands of the strikers, held in check by the uncertain authority of a committee of the leaders. Andrew Carnegie, from his safe place in Scotland, declines to interfere, and Superintendent Frick, the Man of Steel, refuses to recede from his position. To maintain his position means more bloodshed, and it must come at any moment. The army of strikers are resting on their arms, flushed with the success of one victory and eagerly awaiting a chance to score another.

sermon was to the effect that turning to Christ was the only solution of labor troubles. His only direct reference to the pending trouble was as follows: "When people shall refrain from seeking their own self-aggrandizement we shall then have triumphant democracy--when Carnegie is not king but Christ. Then the lion of capital will lie down with the lamb of labor. Monopolies will be no longer known in the land and there will be no more Pinkertons to harm and destroy."

After the sermon Dr. McIlvair offered up a prayer in which he said: "We are surging waves of storm and anxiety have beat upon this community during the past few days we pray, with God's help, our faith shall be stayed, and our confidence in God and our hope of salvation made very strong. God grant comfort to those hearts that are watching and nursing the wounded, and to those widows and mothers who are looking for the bodies of their dead. Grant in His great mercy that all these things may work together for our good in Christ Jesus. So move upon the minds of this community, upon the forces of this state upon the sober intelligent thinking men of this state; so operate everywhere Thy spirit of power that peace and harmony may be restored. Oh, God, do pray that no one may take the back road and that honest men may be brought to the front. God grant that in all these conflicts we may see salvation going forward, peace and harmony triumphant and under martial law and that not the law of the land. Armed guards patrol the streets night and day. Every approach to either the town or the works of the Carnegie Steel Co. is guarded. Every stranger is compelled to give a satisfactory explanation of himself and his business and if there is any doubt as to his identity he is escorted to the next outgoing train and warned that it will be dangerous to return. PRESS CENSORSHIP.

The Strikers Not Permitted to See Arguments That Might Change Their Course.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 11.—The belief is fixed in the minds of nearly everybody in Homestead that Pinkerton detectives are in town, obtaining information of some sort, and acting on this belief suspicion has been kindled in the streets. The organization of the 4,000 or more members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers is remarkable. Every man is determined and word has been passed that there is no fight of their life. They are desperate, and another force of Pinkertons need expect no quarter. The mill men will die or win. of your money back every time you look round the room. It is perfectly true that there is no place like home, but it is also perfectly true that some homes might be a good deal more cheerful, cozy and comfortable than they are. Bleak and barren would be the houses of long ago but there is certainly no excuse for that kind of thing now when you such bargains.

DAILY REPUBLICAN.
A. E. HAMMER, W. F. CALDWELL, HAMMER & CALDWELL, PROPRIETORS, DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
PUBLISHED AT THE POST OFFICE at Decatur, Illinois, as second class mail matter.
MONDAY EVENING, JULY 11, 1902.
The demands made by the employees of the Carnegie company may be met, but the scale of wages offered by the managers of the mills are not starvation wages, as Democratic demagogues claim.
The scale offered by the managers provides for a reduction of hours from 12 to 8, and an average wage of $3.72 a day or $22.92 a week as a minimum, and a proportionate increase of wages for any advance in the selling price of steel billets over $21 a ton, the price they are now selling at. Some of the men are conceded as high as $8.20 a day while the lowest, for unskilled labor, is $1.86. These are not starvation wages and are satisfactory to all but $25 men out of a total of 2,800 men who have been employed at the works.
Within the Cincinnati Inquirer and the New York Sun, both Democratic papers that have patriation enough in their make up not to advocate anarchy, are saying that the Democratic demagogues who are trying to make political capital out of the unfortunate affair at Homestead and the speech made by John M. Palmer in the United States senate, are discreditable to Democrats, the fact remains that it is but a repetition of the spirit which is bred in the Democratic party by the course of its leaders and which during the war in 1863 and 1864 manifested itself in attempts to bring about discord and anarchy in the north. They did it then as they do it now in the hope of gaining votes for the Democratic party. They went about the country in those days trying to aggravate the anguish of the hearts of the loyal soldiers by telling them that Lincoln was a murderer and was every day causing the murder of their sons on the field of battle, and after having done this on the supposition that these mothers and fathers and sisters would conspire to close the war at any price, that their sons might be saved, in 1864 declared the war a failure and demanded a cessation of hostilities. On that platform they went before the people where they met such a defeat as their party deserved. The mothers and the fathers and the sons themselves as far as they were permitted, voted for Lincoln, re-elected him and sent the despising demagogue howling to their homes and the republic to defeat. History will be repeated.

Grover Cleveland Greins.
Grover Cleveland is smiling over the outrage which contains the bodies of the poor unfortunate who fell in the riot at Homestead, Pa., and in his cold blooded way says these misfortune will have a far reaching effect and will help the Democratic party.
Like the other blatherers of that party he is in hopes that more blood may be shed, as in his opinion it will aid in electing him president. Neither Mr.
Cleveland nor the other Democrats who are appealing to the prejudices of men through the bloody results at Homestead, and who are doing what they can in this way to incite men to acts of bloodshed, seem to be aware of the fact that a large percent of the men associated with the Amalgamated association of iron and steel workers are men of the highest point of intelligence, and are especially well posted on the practical workings of the tariff laws. They are not theorists.
The blundering clasp of mugwumps and free trade Democrats is the worst rot to them.
While they may have differences with employers these differences do not affect their minds as to the beneficial effects of protective tariff. The differences in the grade lead them to entertain for one moment the thought that the Democratic nostrum of free trade would raise their wages or cheapen what they have to buy. Almost any one of these men could give Mr. Cleveland and other blatant Democratic points on the tariff and its practical workings they never deserted.
The officers and executive committee of the Amalgamated association are composed of equal numbers of Democrats and Republicans, but all are protectionists. Not one of them has the least sympathy with Cleveland's tariff theories as given in his tariff message of 1897, and of course none have any sympathy with the present Democratic free trade platform.
One of the members of the executive committee, just after the greatest riot the association ever conducted, in which they were defeated at a cost to the men in the loss of wages from idleness for a period of 111 days of above $7,000,000, was sent by the association into W. R.
Morrison's district to defend him for congress on account of his attempt to pass the Homestead Tariff bill. That man was John Jarrell, of Chicago. Morrison was beaten in one term and the same year Pennsylvania gave Blaine and protection 91,019 plurality.
The same story will be repeated. As soon as the Amalgamated Association and the proprietors of the iron mills get their troubles adjusted they will immediately proceed to aid in sending Mr.
Cleveland and the Democratic party "higher than a kite." Cleveland's glorious grin over the outline of the dead at Homestead will receive in due time their merited contempt and be properly rebuked.

Deafness Can't be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed it causes an accumulation of mucus in the tube, which is not only a source of irritation, but when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless this inflammation can be taken out of the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; one case out of ten are cured by Catarh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by Catarh that we cannot cure by Catarh. Send for circular free.

Had Not Slept For Years.
Mr. A. Jackson, an old resident of Rank, Texas, and manager of the magnificent new Hotel at Rank, informs us he has not slept a night for years except in short naps, owing to incessant coughing. He was advised when very much run down to try Ballard's Horehound Syrup; he was immediately relieved of the cough and his rest improved to such a degree that he could sleep soundly all night. Mr. Jackson states: "I regard Ballard's Horehound Syrup as the best cough Syrup on the market, and its freedom from opium and morphia leave no complaint about its use. For this reason alone I consider it the best Cough Syrup in the world for children. My lungs are now stronger than they have been for years. This Syrup is very good to the throat and lungs." Sold by

At the Nativities.

The Nativities at Riverside Park is becoming more popular every day. Swimming in the clear spring water, which is brought to the proper temperature, is a delight to all who visit the natatorium.

All Decatur is indebted to State's Attorney Mills for the pool. It was built at his individual expense and it is under his management.

There will be an invitation reception at the Nat on Friday evening, from 8 to 11, to the members of the Decatur and Calmest clubs and their friends.

Hours for swimming for gentlemen and boys, 8 a. m. to 12 m.; 7 to 10 p. m.; for ladies and girls, 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. except Sunday; social and family parties, 5 p. m. to 7 p. m. The prices are: Single admission for boys and girls under fifteen years, 10 cents; adults, admission 25 cts.;
